

Happy New Year!

Wishing everyone a very blessed, prosperous and happy year ahead!

My channeled predictions for 2009:

© January 1, 2009 Jules Kennedy

A great wind will make it possible for clear sailing into this 21st Century. Although disregarded, the newest era of the millennium is just now taking hold. There are many factors which influence the happiest days forward. To save your own soul from your personal demise into fear and regret, look inward to your deepest feelings and outward to those believers think like you. Belief is irrelevant unless it stems from the highest inner truth. Belief is not fact, but can be based on potential fact. This makes it take on a powerful shape of sorts.

2009 will house a lot of mixed consciousness showing itself in outer form. Those with great fear will lose in these next days. They will lose the ability to hold on to stagnant beliefs that numero-uno can win at the expense of all the rest. A year of competitive greed will end in chaos. To avoid this catastrophic reality, back away from “needing to have it now.” Begin to hold a vision of peace and light energizing the planet in waves that will eradicate the fear from the hearts of those who shall eventually inherit this earth—the meek.

Take care not to charge into projects unless you can see a clear path to the end of them, which can bring you the sight that these projects will help, not hinder the earth and her inhabitants.

2009 is the year of choices based on information to back them up in all directions. In essence 2009 becomes a year of clarity for those that understand truth. For those confused, it will be the most difficult year. For those who know what is best for all but don't choose it, this will create a destruction so grand they may not be able to pull out.

Expect wars like no other time in history. Expect the helpers of light to ignore the wars and help only those who know the light and move toward its beauty. Do NOT turn your back on the light or you will be left behind. These wars will destroy the Earth, or will have the appearance as if there is nothing left, but only to those that choose the road of the seven deadly sins (lust, envy, gluttony, sloth, greed, anger, pride). Their fate has already been determined. Armageddon watch out...you've not know this type of cleansing before. Those that work for light and the good of those around them, they will be saved and specialized. Good luck will seem to follow them. Good desire will eliminate the need for discernment. The good will rule the earth in time. 2009 is the year of transition that takes planet Earth into the future of peace for 2000 years and beyond.

Technology and goodness will shine. Economy will be varied. For those doing actual good works the economics of their deeds will provide a wealth of more opportunities. For those living on the greed path,—their time will be literally a deadly one.

Choose the light. Choose peace. Choose love and you will be granted a life of wonder and extreme bliss. Choose light.

---Mass ascension; and plentiful UFO sightings and encounters never before experienced.

---Clear definitions between good and evil, black and white...there will be no grey areas left.

---Many troops will be brought home to keep the continent (not just America) safe.

---People will cross over in great numbers, due to the fact that,

- a.) they either could not decide,
- b.) they were only here to set the stage for this crossover time,
- c.) or they are laying down the gauntlet no longer able to fight.

---There will be mass grave sights opened up in the southeast and northwest.

---The quiet areas will become intensively aggressive with civil war and mayhem.

(The Earth areas in the USA that were once war zones will become peace zones and “no-fight” areas. Watch out for the big cities. They are hot zones waiting and ripe for war. But the biggest of cities will be the first to calm, because they have more abundant numbers of peace & light workers. The remote areas will flood with evil-doers, only in pockets where the Earth will keep them until such time as she swallows them up...and she will.)

---There will be many more incidents of disappearances of people (Less kidnapping of children and more vanishing of the evil adults that hurt children), never to be seen or heard from again. There is a visual of an alien force helping with this cleaning up of the perverted humans that hurt children and animals. Their fate and karma will get them within the next three to thirty years.

---A different type of person will become well regarded and information sought after.

---The normal ways of communication will change greatly. Words will become more important. Language will be analyzed and taught in a much more integrated and meaningful way.

---The borders of countries will change.

---Angels will go to work. It is their time to shine, and their work will be seen and taken seriously. More humans will find their wings and begin to fly and produce miracles beyond belief! But also more humans will degrade into nothingness and despair than ever before seen at one time.

---The crossover has begun.
